LATSIS SYMPOSIUM ETH ZURICH
PERSONALIZED MEDICINE —
CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES

JUNE 27 – 29, 2016
ETH ZURICH, SWITZERLAND
REGISTRATION OPENS JANUARY 2016
ABSTRACT SUBMISSION: JANUARY – MARCH 2016
www.itis.ethz.ch/latsis2016

Join us in Zurich to explore the opportunities afforded by personalized medicine and to address the challenges of making it a reality. The three-day program will feature themed oral sessions on topics from gen- and metabolomics to the in silico patient concept, with invited lectures, keynote addresses, and panel discussions, followed by poster sessions and opportunities for networking. The symposium closes with a public event.

CONFIRMED SPEAKERS

Robert Austin Princeton University, US
Niko Beerwenkinkel ETH Zurich, CH
Yaakov Benenson ETH Zurich, CH
Jeffrey Bischoff Zimmer Biomet Inc., US
Erwin Böttinger Berlin Institute of Health, DE
Víctor Darley-Usmar University of Alabama, US
Sadaf Farooqi University of Cambridge, UK
Philippe Froguel Imperial College London, UK
Detlef Günther ETH Zurich, CH
Amy Herr University of California, US
Denis Horgan European Alliance for Personalised Medicine, BE
Wolfgang Kainz Food and Drug Administration, US
Thomas Kupper Dana-Farber / Brigham and Women's Cancer Center, US

Vartan Kurtcuoglu University of Zurich, CH
Niels Kuster ETH Zurich / IT’IS Foundation, CH
Mathieu Lupien University of Toronto, CA
Holger Moch University Hospital Zurich, CH
Ersa Neufeld IT’IS Foundation, CH
Stephen Quake Stanford School of Medicine, US
Mark A. Rubin Weill Cornell Medicine, US
Nikolaos Stergiopulos EPF Lausanne, CH
Roger Stupp University of Zurich & University Hospital Zurich, CH
Gabor Szekely ETH Zurich, CH
Thomas D. Szucs Helsana Group, CH
Yiannis Ventikos University College London, UK
Marco Viceconti University of Sheffield, UK

SPONSORS: